Find Just What You Need

Quickly find available resources:

- Select “Subjects”
- Choose a topic
 - Ex: Social Studies
- Choose a general subject area or dive in to a sub-topic right away

Subject Page: Refine Your Search

You can further filter by:

1. Sub-topic
2. Grade
3. Content Type (Video, Gallery, Lesson Plan, Interactive, more)

The screenshot shows the PBS LearningMedia website interface for the Social Studies subject page. The page is titled "Social Studies" and includes a navigation bar with "Subjects", "Grades", "Standards", and "For Students". Below the title, there is a description: "Explore the past and learn about the present with resources on government, history, economics, and more." A red box labeled "1." highlights a row of six sub-topic icons: Civics and Government, Economics, Geography, Elementary Social Studies, U.S. History, and World History. Below this, there is a filter section with a purple header. A red box labeled "2." highlights the "Grade" dropdown menu, which is open to show options from PreK to 9. Another red box labeled "3." highlights the "Type" dropdown menu. The main content area displays three video thumbnails: "The Coastal Zone: Beaufort County Water Festival (00:02:08)", "Queen Catharine Montour", and "Know Ohio | Lake Erie".

Favorite Content To Save

Save resources by using the “Favorite” feature in the left hand column.

NOTE: If you haven't created your free account yet, you'll be prompted to login when you try to mark a favorite.

The screenshot displays the PBS LearningMedia interface for the resource "The Powers of Government". The page includes a navigation bar with "Subjects", "Grades", "Standards", and "For Students" tabs. The main content area features a large image of the White House and the U.S. Capitol, with a "Launch" button. On the left side, there is a vertical menu with options: "Share to Google Classroom", "Assign or Share", and "Save this resource for later." The "Save this resource for later." option is circled in red. Below the main image, there are tabs for "About", "Support Materials", and "Standards". The bottom of the page contains a description of the interactive lesson and the WGBH logo. On the right side, there is a "You May Also Like" section with recommendations for "Slavery and the U.S. Constitution", "About Inspiring Middle School Literacy", "A Case for the Separation of Powers", and "Understanding Character: The Life...".

Add Favorites to Folders

Once you have favorites, you can sort them into folders using these steps.

1. Select favorites from your account (top right).
2. Select the resource you want to assign to a folder.
3. Select 'Add to Folder' and choose the right folder.

The screenshot shows the PBS LearningMedia interface for California Educators. The top navigation bar includes 'Subjects', 'Grades', 'Standards', and 'For Students'. A user profile dropdown for 'Jennifer' is visible in the top right, with 'Favorites' highlighted by a red circle and the number '1.'. The main content area is titled 'Favorites' and contains a list of resources. The 'Add to Folder' button is circled in red with the number '3.'. The first resource, 'The Powers of Government', has a checkmark in its selection box, which is also circled in red with the number '2.'. The resources listed are:

- The Powers of Government: Created: 03/10/2020, Grades: 5-8. Type: INTERACTIVE.
- The Women's Movement: Created: 03/10/2020, Grades: 5-12. Type: COLLECTION.
- Minnesota | Activity 8.2: Citizens Alliance in Minnesota: Created: 03/10/2020, Grades: 4-7, 13+. Type: LESSON PLAN.

Customize and Share Folders

Managing Folders: Create individualized folders based on instructional units, student interest, level, or needs.

Sharing Folders: Update the content within each folder, and the same link updates the changes for your collaborators.

The screenshot shows the PBS LearningMedia interface displaying a shared folder titled 'Types of Informational Text'. The folder is shared by 'S. Kim'. The folder description states: 'Let's learn more about the specific purposes of different types of informational texts. We'll explore five types of informational text.' The folder contains three items:

- Field Guide Family Activity | MOLLY OF DENALI™
Grades: K-2
Provided By: Molly of Denali
Document
Notes: An informative/explanatory text conveys information about the natural or social world.
Instructions:
1. Look through Molly's guides.
2. Observe the outdoors for birds! When you spot a bird, take notes on its features (like its colors, beak shape, and size). This will help you determine what kind of bird it is.
- Zora Neale Hurston | Xavier Riddle and the Secret Museum
Grades: 1-2
Provided By: Xavier Riddle And The Secret Museum
Media Gallery
Notes: A biographical text interprets and shares the experiences of a real person
Instructions:
1. Watch the clip about Zora Neale Hurston. As you watch, think about what made Zora a good storyteller.
2. Read the biosketch. Answer the close reading questions on the back.
- First Fish | MOLLY OF DENALI™
Grades: K-2
Provided By: Molly of Denali
Video
Notes: A procedural/how-to text teaches someone how to do something.
Instructions:
1. Watch the episode. Take notes on how Molly goes about discovering information about salmon and the life cycle of salmon.
2. Research about salmon.

Resources

PBS LearningMedia

A Resource for Distance Learning

PBS LearningMedia is a free service that offers thousands of contextualized learning materials aligned to state and national standards. The site allows educators to curate and share educational media that supplements the units they're teaching.

-  Engage learners with content from PBS stations and award-winning series such as Doc McStuffins, Neighborhood, Wild Kratts, Cook
-  Search and browse content by subject area, state and national curriculum standards, and grade level.
-  Create an account and access lesson plans and assignment tools. Search, save and organize content into folders or playlists.
-  Full Google Classroom integration - giving teachers the ability to sync class rosters, assignments, and assignment results between
-  Revised integration - allowing educators to easily and easily share content to or within class, or their families.

- PBS will be providing an set of resources and opportunities to support distance instruction
 - On the Source (Search PBSLMCOVID19):
 - PBS LearningMedia: Learning Content at Your Fingertips PowerPoint
 - PBS LearningMedia: A Resource for Distance Learning One Sheet
 - Recording available for - Virtual Professional Learning Event for educators on Wednesday, March 18
 - Social media messaging in the PBS CME Social Media calendar for stations
 - Station Education Solutions Page on the HUB.
 - More to come including PBS TeachersLounge Blog Posts, Additional resources on PBS LearningMedia,

Learning Content at Your Fingertips

Insert "reverse" station logo then delete gray box

Next Steps

- Review the new localization features, functionality and specifications and identify ways you can use these functions to support your local educators.
 - This deck and recording from March 13 session posted on the Source (<https://source.pbs.org>).
 - Review CMS access for your station - do you have the right people in the right roles (service admin, site admin, content admin)?
 - If not, contact PBSKIDSandEducation@pbs.org for assistance.
- Provide educators with guidance on PBS LearningMedia features for distance instruction:
 - March 18 Virtual Professional Learning Event Available Via PBS TeachersLounge (archived)
 - Sessions hosted by KQED
 - One-sheet and PowerPoint on Source and emailed as an attachment to stations
- Consider station capacity to support local education efforts. How can you best deploy your resources? How can PBS Education provide support?
- Evaluate strategies used by other PBS member stations (Collection of examples on the HUB).

How Localization Works

What is it, exactly? How does it work on PBS LearningMedia?

PBS LearningMedia is localized by 95% of PBS stations. What does that mean?

- Localization refers to the act of determining a user's local PBS station according to the area in which they live. For PBS LearningMedia, this area is determined through manually mapping counties to stations.
- Localization determines a user's location in order to serve them state standards, homepage customized for their locale and PBS station. This is done when a user provides a zip code or automatically by IP address that is mapped to a zip code, then mapped to a county.

PBS LearningMedia Localization Benefits:

- Co-branded subdomain (i.e. dptv.pbslearningmedia.org)
- Co-branded header
- Editorialize parts of the homepage
- CMS Access (manage localization features, run registered user reports)

Roles & Permissions

The PBS LearningMedia Content Management System (CMS) has the following roles and permissions for stations.

If you currently have access, please login and review your users and make updates as needed. If you don't have access, or would like us to review, please contact us at PBSKIDSandEducation@pbs.org.

Primary Roles	Permissions
Service Admin	Highest level of permission in the CMS. Manage localization features, update user permissions, run user reports, contribute content
Content Admin	Contribute content
Site Admin	Manage localizations features, run user reports

Localization opportunities for PBS member stations

Header prominently displays station branding. Station logo has a dropdown area called the Station Module with additional areas for local information, or default to national.

Promotional section for stations to highlight local news and events, or default to national promotions.

Featured collections area for stations to curate, or default to national picks.

The Station Module also appears on the bottom of the homepage and includes three areas: station logo and links, educator events, open promotional area.

Station logo, donate button and social media dynamically pulled from PBS Station Manager. Changes are made at station.console.pbs.org.

Program the Educator Events section with local events relevant to educators. Maximum of four (4) events appear in chronological order. When an event expires, it is automatically removed from the list. Defaults to national events if station does not program.

Program this open area with text or image to highlight events, promotions, programing, newsletter, sponsorship and more.
